

Akrasia, Special

Can you tell me when it was
When you woke up
And you realized
That I'm no longer
Special
To you

Can you tell me when it was
When you woke up
And you realized
That you no longer
Care

Are you better off without me
Am I better without you
I'd incline to disagree but Somehow I don't think that you would Agree with my perspective
'Specially when you elected
To give up so easily and
Run away, hey, tell me when it was

When you woke up
And you realized
That I'm no longer
Special
To you

Can you tell me when it was
When you woke up
And you realized
That you no longer
Care

Never spent a selfish thought on me
I only tried to be there
To support you
To love you
Never put myself above you
I tried to make you happy
My reward was in your smile
I'd always thought you'd feel the same
But since you don't then tell me when it was

When you woke up
And you realized
That I'm no longer
Special
To you

Can you tell me when it was
When you woke up
And you realized
That you no longer
Care

When you look at me
Tell me do you see
The guy you fell in love with
Or some guy you used to date

Why did you let the passion
Get lost in simple problems
I could've changed, you know

I would've but you never let me try

(solo)

Did I suffocate you
Did I alienate you
If it felt so wrong
Then why the hell'd you stay so long
I gave my life and soul to you for two years
And what do you do
You say it's not enough, you want your space

So tell me when it was
When you woke up
And you realized
That I'm no longer
Special
To you

Can you tell me when it was
When you woke up
And you realized
That you no longer
Care

I can't let you go like you let me
I can't let you go like you let me
I can't let you go like you let me
I can't let you go like you let me
I can't let you go like you let me
I can't let you go like you let me
I can't let you go like you let me
I can't let you go like you let me
I can't let you go until you tell me when it was

When you woke up
And you realized
That I'm no longer
Special
To you

Can you tell me when it was
When you woke up
And you realized
That you no longer
Care
