

Akrasia, The Others

just tell me i'm not like the others before

i'm paranoid
i'm scared, i'm insecure
if you're my savior, take my faith and bless me till it hurts

are you someone who'd run away or dye your hair to change the color of your mood and just add my name to your list of men who's novelty's run thin

just tell me i'm not like the others before from where you are how can i tell that we're underneath the same bright star and you hold so high that big brass ring just keeps me hanging on (solo)

i'm paranoid
