Al Stewart, Night of the 4th of may

And the days they flew by And the leaves fell from the trees And many times you came around And