

Ala Boratyn, Higher

On a big mountain
oh i climb high to touch the sunshine and feel the wind blow against my face now its my turn to shine so you better listen to my heavy steps and the beating of my heart now im higher and higher but one day i will be fallin i wanna be on top i dont wanna be a flop ill never drop it and ill never stop it better to be early than to let it pass you by When youve got a big chance dont let it slip through your hands life is like a big race youve gotta break the chains no matter what they say no matter what they think
