

Ala Boratyn, I Never Know

Nobody knows
just how they can find you
you got sand
on your face on your feet
the desert inside you
you dont care
if they not far behind
they not within your view therez a place
to the east in the sun
where nature can hide you
i never know
who you were
where you are
ill never tell
anyone
where you are
nobody knows
who you were
where you are
why should they care
everyone
everywhere
therez a man
on the street
whos singing a mantra
in his eyes
he can see to your soul dont let him get closer take a walk
but far from the road
so no one can see you
dont look back
on your life you belong where ever you want to
on and on
you look for a way that supposed to bring answers
you got rain
on your face on your feet
the ocean inside of you someone said
that they think they have seen somebody look like you
therez a star
in the sky to the north thats waiting to follow you
