

Alabama, I Could Just See You Now

(Jeff Cook - Linne Black)

Your love for me is gone
But my love for you lives on
And my memories of you
Will never die.

I can just see you now
The special smile you gave to me
The face I'll love eternally
I see all the things you do.

Your nearness seems so real to me
As though you really care with me
Can't believe it's just a memory
I can just see you now.

Oh, girl if I only could
I wish with all my heart I could
Holding you would feel so good
if I could just see you now.

I can just feel you now
The tender sweetness of your lips
As they brush across my fingertips
I feel the softness on your mind.

So warm beside through the night
Holding you to the morning light
Oh, did you really say goodbye
I can just feel you now.

Oh, girl if I only could
I wish with all my heart I could
Holding you would feel so good
if I could just see you now.

I could just see you now
The special smile you gave to me
The face I'll love eternally
I see all the things you do...
