

Alain Clark, Live it out

Dont ever hold back your words
Thinking that what you say is irrelevant who else would care
See we feed of off each other yeah
And its alright to speak your mind
Only if we dig do we get deeper
Only if we think do we figure things out
Nothing ever came of any dreamer
Who didnt live it out
Dont you worry bout the way you move
Cause theres a million different ways in how to do
And if the blood on your hands and knees are your excuse
Its alright to fall youll learn
Who didnt live it out
Dont pull the shades
Let the light shine through and brighten up the place
No dont be safe
Let your dreams come out and play
Only if we dig do we get deeper
And only if we think do we figure things out
Who didnt live it out
Who didnt live it out
