

Alain Clark, Rain will fall

Hang around on a sunny day its alright
Picking flowers at the dawn of May its all bright
Safe people dont go to pray and its alright
Saying sorry when you know youre wrong its all good
Sing these lyrics to another song and its all good
Just as long as you go along its all good
But where there are clouds
Rain will fall
Cold love looks you in the eye and thats okay
Two lovers with an alibi thats touch
Ask no questions and you hear no lies is what they say
Ride the storm and laugh about it
Its just a breeze if you look the other way
No skys ever been clear without it
Take a dive when the waters warm
Blow the smoke away from the smoke alarm
Hurt no one and you do no harm
But dont you know
That where there are clouds
Rain will fall
Where there are clouds
Rain will fall
