Alan x Walkers, Unity

"For a month now I've had an ongoing production process together with Walkers. This is the final result! It's called «Unity» and is produced, written and recorded by us. Really proud of what we've achieved together from so many different places in the world. This is the anthem to our community!" in the dark of night the stars light of the sky we see that flying free that's just like you and me everyone is lonely sometimes but I can walk thousand miles to see your eyes you will not lonely we are family hold me let's escape off this reality

you're my symphony by your side we are united you're my energy my guiding light we are unity

we are unity

although the rain might pour a thunder stars to roar the lightening wakes the wave but through it we are brave

unity we are unity
