

Alana Grace, Sanctuary

Standing through an open door way, sick of feeling out of place
People walking by ignore me, I want to turn and run away

So I turn and run away

I close my eyes, and I disappear from here to
My sanctuary, my hide away, my secret window
Nobody can see me when I disappear into my place
My complications, my fantasies, my destinations
Never going to let you get into my head it`s my
Sanctuary

You think that you can understand me,

You think you got me figured out

How could you when you never listen?

You don`t know what I`m about

Don`t you know I tune you out?

I`m far away, to a place where you can`t go

You know it`s

My sanctuary, my hide away, my secret window
Nobody can see me when I disappear into my place
My complications, my fantasies, my destinations
Never going to let you get into my head it`s my
Sanctuary

I, I, ohhh, I, I, ohhh

Go ahead and try to fool me with you lies,

I escape in to shadows of my mind to

My sanctuary, my hide away, my secret window
Nobody can see me when I disappear into my place
My complications, my fantasies, my destinations
Never going to let you get into my head it`s my
My sanctuary, my hide away, my secret window
Nobody can see me when I disappear into my place
