Surmounting The Masses

Defeating oppression, is my obsession Deleting the tyranny, erasing the fear in me Destined to receive, what I conceive Dishonor the majority, by my authority
I see through the haze
devoid of your daze
your insolent ways
Surmounting the masses
I reject what you cherish
Your fate you shall perish
I rejoice in your pain Feel all this misery, as you begin to see pure coal to succeed, which I shall not heed clear path to victory, defeating the tyranny erasing the very need, to associate with your breed
I see through the haze
devoid of your daze
your insolent ways
Surmounting the masses
I reject what you cherish
Your fate you shall perish
I rejoice in your pain
Surmounting the masses
The masses
how does it feel to be maimed by the pain of eroding soul drown in all your glory!
Drown in all your lies!
