

alayna, A World Without You

Why the hell did we make up time
If it only feels like we're running out
The years of bliss I took easily
The memories of me and you

What can I give to the choir
To hold off singing so I live life beside ya

Oh I don't know much
But I know one thing to be true
Oh I don't know much
But I know one thing to be true
I don't want a world without you

All my other worries fell off of my shoulders
'Cause I never wanted to get any older
But now I dream of comparing lines 'round our eyes
And the greys in our hair

'Cause we lived a full life here
What can I give to the choir
To hold off singing so I live life beside ya

I don't know much
But I know one thing to be true
Oh I don't know much
But I know one thing to be true
I don't want a world without you

Oh I don't know much
But I know one thing to be true
I don't want a world without you
