

Albert React, July's Memoir

Present, Prepare we're not there
we live with the size that fits.
Awake in the glare so prepare
to live with the size that fits.

NOW the results have reversed but still you pry to recall what you've learned In the eyes of your thirst they still know you wont put yourself first

Present, Prepare we're not there
we live with the size that fits.
Awake in the glare so prepare
to live with the size that fits.

May always wakes the cities
Are we moving forward or falling back down?
