

Alborosie, Diversity

This is for my people -
Oh, my Jah Jah people.
The conquering Lion, shall come.
I don't want to live in the past,
So I'm looking for a brighter day.
My homeland is right there behind the horizon,
God Almighty watch me same way.
Someone is judging my spirituality,
Laughing at my meditation.
Don't be afraid of diversity,
There is no confliction.
Blessed shall be the one,
Who live in love, respect and dedication.
Blessed shall be the one, who live in love.
Love you, King Selassie,
Promise you I'll keep your crown.
Love you King Selassie,
No man will bring me down.
Love you, King Selassie,
Promise you I'll keep your crown.
Love you King Selassie,
No man will bring me down.
Live in love and life shall bloom,
God is waiting there.
Don't be scared of where you're going,
'Cause you don't really nowhere.
Simple people with simple life,
We don't seek perfection.
For many years we've been living in,
One life of illusion.
Love you, King Selassie,
Promise you I'll keep your crown.
Love you King Selassie,
No man will bring me down.
Love you, King Selassie,
Promise you I'll keep your crown.
Love you King Selassie,
No man will bring me down.
I don't want to live in the past,
So I'm looking for a brighter day.
