

Alcazar, My All

All my life, I've tried to be
By myself, living for me
All those years, living in shame
All the while, you were calling my name
Lord I give you my heart I keep nothing from you
And I will never fear what you want me to do
And I'll stay in the race, Lord I will finish strong
I'll be right in your arms here where I belong
Oh my God....
Guide me in truth, give me passion for you
Oh my God....
Take my heart, and I'll live for you
Who you are is who I need
More of you, less of me
You alone are worthy of praise
Reveal yourself unto me
I will run the race, and I won't lose heart
I will not give in to the world within
I will never give up 'til I see your face
And I'll always love you my all
