

Aldo Nova, It's Too Late

You call me on the telephone
And you say you'll never do it again
But you've hurt me once too often dear
And it's just a little late to repent
All your beggin' and pleadin' won't help you
And your lying' and cheatin', I'll take no more
'Cause I told you before and I'll tell you again
You liar, liar
It's too late, it's too late
It's too late, it's too late
'Cause I know that I never wanna see you again
And now don't you go, tellin' lies about me to your friends
'Cause I've heard them before and you know it
That I've taken this long just to show it
So take all of your heartaches and leave me alone
'Cause I know, you know, they know
It's too late, I've walked out the door
It's too late to tell me you're sorry
It's too late to go any higher
Are you liar, liar, liar?
So you call me on the telephone
Sayin' that you'll never do it again
But you've hurt me once too many times
And now I'm afraid it's the end
All your beggin' and pleadin' won't help you
And you're lying' and cheatin', I'll take no more
'Cause I told you before and I'll tell you again
'Cause I know, you know and they know
It's too late, I've walked out the door
It's too late to tell me you're sorry
It's too late to go any higher
Are you liar, liar, liar?
