

Aleah, Breathe

Breathe my name, what does it say?
On your tongue, how does it taste?
When it pulses through your veins
Tell me if you feel the same
Say my name, what does it tell you?
Trust your heart for it remains true
When all else seems to delude you
You will know what lives inside you
Breathe For in your breath you will find me
I will
Grace you Beyond your wildest dreams
I am here - You would never believe
If you knew - just how I know you in me.
Breathe my name when you are lonely
I'll be there if you will let me
Feel my warmth as I caress you
Feel my lips and let them bless you
Breathe For in your breath you will find me
I will
Grace you Beyond your wildest dreams
I am here - You would never believe
If you knew - just how I know you in me.
