

Alejandro Fuentes, Hell If I

I thought we had something special
Though I might have missed the line
I thought we had something precious
Even if I messed it up
I know I've lost my right to change things you do
I must confess it hurts a little more then it should
Hell if I
Hell if I'm gonna cry because you found someone new
I tell you I
I'd feel a whole lot better
If you took some time to shed a tear
Maybe you didn't have to look so pleased
So good, so satisfied
I must have though there was a chance
I must have thought there was some hope
I thought we still could find some magic
Somewhere down the road
I know I've lost my right to judge things you do
I must confess it hurts a little more then it should
Hell if I
Hell if I'm gonna cry because you found someone new
I tell you I
I'd feel a whole lot better
If you took some time to shed a tear
Maybe you didn't have to look so pleased
So good, so satisfied x3
