Alesana, The Thespian

(Baby) why are you doing this to me (Sweetheart) Are those your eyes staring straight back at me (Angel) I see your smile everywhere (Darling, stop) Night falls and I'm running in circles I'm being chased by my imagination Tell me I'm forgiven say you'll always be mine Say that everything is over, tell me I'm fine No one deserves to live like this! I touch your lips and stare in your eyes You smile and it makes me fly You are the reason my heart beats Tonight it's just you and me Night as dark as my thoughts sets the scene for my return Lightning nips at my heels as I race home Wearily I stagger towards the song of her pale voice Demons jeer my attempt to be free Tell me I'm forgiven say you'll always be mine Say that everything is over, tell me I'm fine No one deserves to live like this

I touch your lips and stare in your eyes You smile and it makes me fly You are the reason my heart beats Tonight its just you and me Windows cast her gentle reflection Her somber silhouette dances for me Dear God, it's her Look at you, you miserable fool Get off your knees, your prayers fall upon deaf ears Gods turned his back on you, heavens gates are shut And now you're knocking on the devils door I've been expecting you for some time, sir Allow me to introduce myself I'm the one who pulls on all the strings, son You're lucky I don't kill you where you stand Tonight I raise my glass for I know its time to move on (This can't be real, there's nothing left) My patience will not last, tomorrow I will be gone (All hope has failed. Ive lost my soul)