

Aletheia, Nothing Apart From You

You are so beautiful, your face is the sun that shines upon me. You are so powerful, your words are the sword that pierces through me.

Father I give you my life. I am nothing apart from you, nothing apart from your love. My crimes so great, your love even greater. Oh Lord I am nothing apart from you

You are so merciful, your kindness gives me new beginnings
You are so faithful, your promises kept despite my failings.

I run to you my savior I kneel before your throne. I call to you my Father. I need you so.
