

Alex Band, Here with you I'm found

Everything that I am
Is slipping through my hands
And the roads that I walk on
Somehow all feel wrong
But here with you I see
A reason to believe
Inside I'm not alone
You make this house a home
Can you tell me who I am?
Cause there's no one else who can
I'm lost and upside down
But here with you I'm found
Right here with you I'm found
Every note that I write
Will keep you close tonight
In the morning all my fears
Will seem to disappear
Can you tell me who I am?
Cause there's no one else who can
I'm lost and upside down
But here with you I'm found
Right here with you I'm found
Well you know, it's not that bad
Wanting to give you all I have
I may be lost, a grain of sand
But maybe in time, I'll grow to be, a better man
Everything that I am
Is slipping through my hands
And the roads that I walked down
From Seoul to London town
Led me here with you I'm found
Can you tell me who I am?
Cause there's no one else who can
I'm lost and upside down
But here with you I'm found
Right here with you I'm found
