

Alex Lloyd, All You Need

Faces mistaken
Roads that you've taken are winding
Sand in your shoes
As you kick off those blues you've been sinking
You said that's all you want
You sure that's all you need from me?
You said that's all you want
You sure that's all you need from me?
Is it all you need?
Morning to midnight, every thing's alright
Tomorrow eye's shine like diamonds
So break off those bindings
That hold you back
You said that's all you want
You sure that's all you need from me?
You said that's all you want
You sure that's all you need from me?

Is it all you need?
These revelations keep coming down
Coming down on me
Your destination means everything
Everything to me
You said that's all you want
You sure that's all you need from me?
You said that's all you want
You sure that's all you need from me?
Is it all you need?
Is it all you need?
Is it all you need?
Is it all you need?
Is it all you need?
