

Alex Lloyd, Backseat Clause

If this gets me home then i'll be yours
Last plane to leave well it's a back seat clause

You never call since you found god
I love you more cause it's a back seat clause

I'm still running away with you
I'm still running away with you

You are the one that i have found
A mystery that has come around

All lonely souls must find a friend
You are the means to a stop start end

It's all the same
It's all the same
