

Alex Lloyd, Beautiful

All goodbyes disappeared, when I first set my eyes on you, I found a world so pure and blue.

Today, I vow to you,
that every little piece of me,
is coming from the heart of me.

You are so beautiful,
and you're filling up my day,
with the things I can't explain.

You are so beautiful,
and I'm holding on today,
yeah, we're holding on,
we're holding on.

Among the broke glass,
a road we've all been down before, but this time there's an open door.

A code so set a sealed, where nothing is unbreakable, to find strength of iron will.

Today, I vow to you,
that every little piece of me,
is coming from the heart of me.

You are so beautiful,
and you're filling up my day,
with the things I can't explain.

You are so beautiful,
and I'm holding on today,
yeah, we're holding on,
we're holding on.
