

Alex Lloyd, Light Is On

It's entertainment, and it takes you away,
into the fire, into the fire it will play.
It's consequential and it calls out your name,
into the fire, into the fire it will say.

The light is on, we'll shine on.
The light is on, we'll shine on.

Your brother, sister will make sense of it all,
out of the fire, out of the fire they will call.
You hear a voice now, as you walk down the street,
out of the fire, into the fire you repeat.

The light is on, we'll shine on.
The light is on, we'll shine on.

We've come to shake you from under your stone,
together alone, we'll be there.

We've come to take you away from it all,
how big or small, we still care.

The light is on, we shine on.
The light is on, we shine on.
