

Alex M.O.R.P.H. Feat. Roberta Harrison, Photograph

I think it's time to start again
What claim to enter like a long, lost friend
I could never be your pedestal
Don't tell me where to start
Yeah, you never really left a mark
I've got a photograph of you
I'm tearing it wide open
Broken like you left my heart
When everything is new
I'll be chasing in circles
Trying to find a place to start
Just when you think it never ends
The window opens as you start again
Broaden from a cold ineffable
Don't let it come too soon
This picture of another room
I've got a photograph of you
I'm tearing it wide open
Broken like you left my heart
When everything is new
I'll be chasing in circles
Trying to find a place to start
