

Alexander Nikolayevich Scriabin, Pervaya Simfoniya

Pervaya simfoniya / Symphony No.1

Final / Finale

Solisti / Soloists:

O divny bozhestva,
[O marvellous image of the divine being,] garmoniy chistoye iskusstvo!
[unsullied art of harmonies!]
Tebe prinosim druzhno m
[To thee we offer in concert]
khvalu vostorzhennogo chuvstva.
[our praise born of enthusiasm.]

Ti zhizni svetlaya mechta, [Thou art a joyous dream of life,]
t przdnik, t otdokhnoven'ye;
[thou art a celebration, thou art repose;]
kak dar prinosish' lyudyam t [thou givest mankind as a gift]
svoi volshebnye viden'ya!
[thy enchanting visions.]

V tot mrachny i kholodny chas,
[In that gloomy, cold hour]
kogda dusha polna smyaten'ya, [when the soul is filled with troubles,]
v tebe nakhodit chelovek
[in thee man finds the living joy]
zhivuyu radost' uteshen'ya i zabven'ya.
[of consolation and oblivion.]

Ti sil, pavshiye v bor'be, [Thou callest miraculously to life]
chudesno k zhizni prizvayesh', [forces fallen in the struggle,]
v ume ustalom i bol'nom [in the weary and sick mind thou givest birth]
t msley novkh stroy rozhdayesh'.
[to a system of new thoughts.]

T chuvstv bezbrezhny okean
[Thou givest birth to a boundless ocean]
rozhdayesh' v serdtse
[of feelings in the enraptured heart,] voskhishchonnom
[and it is thy priest,]
i luchshikh pesney pesn' poyot [inspired by thee,]
tvoy zhrets, toboyu vdokhnovlyonny.
[who sings the best of all songs.]

Tsarit vsevlastno na zemle [Thy spirit, free and mighty,] tvoy dukh, svobodny i moguchi;
[reigns omnipotent on earth;]
toboy podnyaty chelovek
[the man roused by thee accomplishes] svershayet slavno podvig luchshiy.
[superbly the finest exploit.]

Pridite vse narod mira,
[Come here, all nations of the world,]
iskusstvu slavu vospoyom!
[let us sing the praises of art!]

Khor / Chorus:

Slava iskusstvu,
[Praise be to art,]
voveki slava!
[for ever praise!]

Translation DECCA 1995