

Alexander Rybak, 5000 letters

5000 letters I keep in my bedroom, 5000 people who open their hearts
Once they were strangers, today we are family, mountains won't keep us apart...
There is a girl who has drawn me a sunrise, that's how she wants every morning to be...
And boy lost his tooth and he wants me to have these how did this happen to me?
I want to know all their faces,
and I want to be there when they need a friend 5000 letters they wrote me,
and some day I'll read them again.
5000 stories i keep in my bedroom, 5000 secrets i keep in my mind
I have been given a piece of their lifetime, friendship is easy to find.
I want to know all their faces,
and I want to be there when they need a friend 5000 letters they wrote me,
and some day I'll read them again.
I want to know all their faces,
and I want to be there when they need a friend 5000 letters they wrote me,
and some day I'll read them again..
