

Alexandra Burke, Give up

Give up, give up, give up x2

Uuuu I stick around when it just hurts

That's the million data question

What the hell is try to work it out when it just don't work

Why keep tryin'?

The problem is that I know the answers

I'm suppose to say cause love is worth the work

But what do you do when the fairytale's true?

Just don't work for you anymore

CHORUS:

You give up, you give up

Through in the child wave the one flag

I see you've had enough

You give up, you give up

When there's no more fight left in you

And you best just stay in love

There's nothing left to do but give up

Uuuu while struggle all win you can win

Thats a million data question

If everything says let it in

Why can't you let it in?

Why keep punishing yourself?

The problem is that I know the answers

I'm suppose to say cause love is worth the work

But what do you do when the fairytale's true?

Just don't work for you anymore

CHORUS:

You give up, you give up

Through in the child wave the one flag

I see you've had enough

You give up, you give up

When there's no more fight left in you

And you best just stay in love

Cause you've tried as hardest as you could

But the battle what you do

No sens of trying fly with no wings at all

All you do is fall

And it's ok, it's alright

Drop your gun let the will stop that fight

Say no more

No end is no chance no

Open the lock

CHORUS:

You give up, you give up

Through in the child wave the one flag

I see you've had enough

You give up, you give up

When there's no more fight left in you

And you best just stay in love

But there's nothing left to do but give up x2

CHORUS:

You give up, you give up

Through in the child wave the one flag

I see you've had enough

You give up, you give up

When there's no more fight left in you

And you best just stay in love

And the world is just to tough

There's nothing left to do but give up
