

Alexisonfire, Counterparts And Number Them

Jennifer,
they lied to you when they said you couldn't breath underwater.
(So here it is, the end is near...
Never would've thought that I'd be something you'd so easily discard)
I lied to when I said I was hard,
(Now I see it all so clear)
because I'm softer then a thrift store sweater
(So it seems that when you turned away...you left...a scar....)
And twice as worn in
I was cast away once but I will be found again.
this I promise you.
