

Alexz Johnson, Cause you're waching over me

You lift me up to touch the sky
When there's a tear you wipe my eye
Everyone, I think, should know
Where I am you always go
I close my eyes I know you're here
Open them wide and you appear
I am always safe and free
Cause you're watching over me
From the biggest cloud up in the sky
To a tiny spot upon a fly, yeah
Everywhere I choose to be
You are watching over me
I close my eyes I know you're here
Open them wide and you appear
I am always safe and free
Cause you're watching over me
You are shadow, you are light
You take the darkness from the night
I am always safe and free
Cause you're watching over me
