

Alexz Johnson, Hero in me

Start a little
Stuck in the middle
I hear that voice.
Now out to get me
It's down to the bone and all I have is a choice.
To get a sign
And just let it go
I thought I won't mind
I guess I mind.
I'm sick of the show
I know what I know
I've seen this too many times.
And when it gets behind me, and when it gets inside
I don't know all the answers
Give me back what's mine.
I'm out of this game
A roll of the dice
I'm down on my luck
My usual vice.
I'm out in the clear
Still walking the line
Keep it together
I don't have much time.
So brace yourself for that hero in me.
You'll be surprised at what you see.
And now I know what I should now
I'll go down with a fight
You can't convince me in letting go
It's getting too bright.
I'm ready to go
Get back in the mould
I know I'll be fine
I'll be just fine.
The damage is done
I'm here with the sun
[unintelligible, maybe 'is that a sign?']
That if it gets behind me
And if it gets inside
I don't know all the answers, but I'll take back what's mine.
I'm out of this game
A roll of the dice
I'm down on my luck
It's my usual vice.
I'm out in the clear
Still walking the line
Keep it together
I don't have much time.
So brace yourself, for that hero in me.
You'll be surprised at what you see.
So brace yourself for that hero in me.
So brace yourself for that hero in me.
