Alexz Johnson, Not Standing Alone

I'd go where I know
If the earth could find my feet
I would run away and go where I know

But you don't even care
No you don't even care
Whats fair

Not standing alone
Not standing around
While they sit there and wait until I lose my ground
Not letting it go
Won't leave it behind
Won't let it pass me by no not this time
Not standing alone
Not standing around
Not letting it go
Won't leave it behind

I keep so far
I nearly lost my mind
I held on so tight
And now I see that I was blind

But you don't even care
No you don't even care
What's fair

Not standing alone
Not standing around
While they sit there and wait until I lose my ground
Not letting it go
Won't leave it behind
Won't pass me by no not this time

Not standing alone
Not standing around
Not letting it go
Won't leave it behind

I have a party
I have a song
Don't need nobody, ain't nothing wrong
I hear the talk
I hear the cry
Im on the inside and looking out
Hey

Not standing alone
Not standing around
While they sit there and wait until I lose my ground
Not letting it go
Won't leave it behind
Won't pass me by no not this time

Not standing alone
Not standing around
Not letting it go
Won't leave it behind

Not standing around no no no
Not standing around no no no
Not standing around no no

Not standing around
Not standing around
Not standing around no no no
