

Alexz Johnson, Time to be your

TIME TO BE YOUR 21

You never lied to me, not once
Its not your fault that i cant trust
Its in my past, its in my bag
And i cant go there
Making a mess out of this game
To see it all go up in flames
So tired of being ruthless and reckless
Time to be your only one
To almost be your way too young
Time to crash into the sun
Time to be your 21
Time to dream that love will last
Time to drive my car too fast
Time to walk before i run
Time to be your 21
I dont believe in love
And i put it to the wall
I tasted sweetness there
And laugh so hard as it falls
And i could push you there if you dont stop me
Push you there if you dont stop me
Please stop me
Time to be your only one
To almost be your way too young
Time to crash into the sun
Time to be your 21
Time to dream that love will last
Time to drive my car too fast
Time to walk before i run
Time to be your 21
Its gut-wrenching sometimes
Its life threatening sometimes
It seems like nothing can wash it all away
Time to be your only one
To almost be your way too young
Time to crash into the sun
Time to be your 21
Time to dream that love will last
Time to drive my car too fast
Time to walk before i run
Time to be your 21
Time to be your only one
To almost be your way too young
Time to crash into the sun
Time to be your 21
