Turn Away

I don't know why you're not talkin' to me.

I don't know what went wrong. Two people who had so much together

Really ought to get along

Yeah

Something started to change inside of you

And right out of the blue

Two friends with such a lot to give

I don't know where you are

What you're going through

What are we tryin' to prove?

When this world's too big to take on your shoulders

Feels like love is in vain

You could break down in my arms, Baby.

But it really hurts when you Turn Away

And I can take the look you give me

Believe me

'Cause I know you are in pain. And I can take the names you call me

But I can't stand when you Turn Away.

Don't Turn Away

I can feel you all around me.
