&lt;/lyrics&gt;
distant memories
are drawn on the water's surface on the jade waves they float into the unreached depths my body sags and sinks and sways and falls the dreams i saw before i was born swam to a place where there was nothing and yet it brimmed with everything was it a shore woven by light?

will those warm eyelids open or are they only there to stay closed

arrived at a time where the curtains of gloom were gently drawn apart was it the day i met you?

before i am born and even after i die dreams will continue embracing that unforgettable voice and smile

i will rise in the ring of eternity
