</lyrics>

this paradise is fragrant, even after these years in your foolish hands, it is going to be ruined you step firmly on this blue world hold onto them, love the people the sword is not purified i kneel

with my tears

the flame leans towards the western skies we look up, and it has no end the light of our lives are tied in the days we do not yet know the sky is with one-eye halfway closed as it watches over us the singing voice of the prayer it resounds, in the paradise
