Alice Cooper, Science Fiction

["Fields Of Regret" with changed lyrics]

Forever I'll enjoy you underchevement I gonna see you every day now if I can Why then don't the night show really matters I still wake on the fields of regret

There is something to this dream we're all involved in wow, Can I see it, can I say it may exist Rest me, hide my years around the planet. If we dwell in the fields of regret

What horror must invade the mind When the approaching judge shall find What sinful deeds from all mankind

With death and nature in surprise Behold the wretched sinners rise To meet the judge's searching eyes

And when the doomed no more can flee From the flames of misery Assist me while I die

Wander through those ever thoughts though if imagined But come down on it's so easy to resist Rest me, hide my years around the planet. Sound another, no part over, won't forget When we laugh at the fields of regret.