

Alice Cooper, Welcome To The Show

Forgot my life, forgot my face
I'm not a member of the human race
My time is here, my time is now
I play the creature 'cause I know how
My lips are red, my eyes are black
And I'm as scary as a heart attack
I hear the screams, I love the heat
I love tribal demon beat

They hit the lights, I hit the stage
So cool, you're all the rage
I come to let you out of your cage, hey

Welcome to the show
Welcome to the show
Are you ready to ride to the other side
You know you wanna go
Welcome to the night
You gonna feel the fright
Welcome to the show

I like your look, I like your style
Your painted faces make me smile
You know the act, you know the dream
You know exactly when to scream

We light it up and you burn it down
You're so cool, you wear the crown
Because I move this holy ground

Welcome to the show
Welcome to the show
Are you ready to ride to the other side
You know you wanna go
Welcome to the game
You'll never be the same
Welcome to the show

Alright band
Put your hands in

Welcome to the show
Welcome to the show
Are you ready to ride to the other side
You know you wanna go
Welcome to the game
You'll never be the same
