Alice Peacock, Trying To Hold Back Time

Mama's looking at her baby fast asleep

Pulls him close, feels him breathe

She knows that he's gonna go away some day

Breaks her heart life's that way

She's tryin' to hold back time

Tries to hide the lines on her face

Just a girl yesterday

She's smart enough to know the years are gonna pass

She don't mind, but not so fast

She's tryin' to hold back time

It's like tryin' to hold water in your hand

Slippin' through your fingers drippin' on the sand

It's just a waste of time

You're gonna find it's kinda like

Tryin' to hold back time

Tryin' to hold back time

Tryin' to hold back time

Tryin' to hold back time
