Alice Ripley, The Break

They told me that the wiring was somehow all misfiring And screwing up the signals in my brain And then they told me chemistry, the juice and not the circuitry Was mixing up and making me insane What happen's when the burn has healed, when the skin has not regrown? What happens when the cast at last comes off And then you find the break was always in another bone? They tried a million meds and they strapped me to their beds And they shrugged and told me that's the way it goes But finally you hit it, I asked you just what did it You shrugged and said that no one really knows What happens if the medicine wasn't really in control? What happens if the cut, the burn, the break Was never in my brain or in my blood but in my soul? What happens if the cut, the burn, the break Was never in my brain or in my blood but in my soul?
