

Alisha's Attic, Resistor

You are the stars above my head
You are everything, I've no safety net
And I accept I'm addicted to this kiss
Breathless and intense
You consume me like you've found a growing space
And I have no defence
Then my radar sends a warning
Trying to numb my soul
Trying to keep control
But I'm falling
Yes I'm falling
The resistor has been breaking down inside me
The resistor has been breaking down inside me

You are the stake I'd never bet,
Until I had this dream we were wed,
And it was something I felt quite easy about Funny that, I'm not scared, not a bit
Of giving everything for the first time

Then my radar sends a warning
Trying to numb my soul
Trying to keep control
But I'm falling
Yes I'm falling
The resistor has been breaking down inside me

(it's too late, it's too late
it's too late, it's too late)
(it's too late, it's too late
it's too late, it's too late)
(oh aah aah, ooo)

Then my radar sends a warning
Trying to numb my soul
Trying to keep control
But I'm falling
Yes I'm falling
The resistor has been breaking down inside me
(then my radar sends a warning)
Trying to numb my soul
Trying to keep control
But I'm falling
Yes I'm falling
The resistor has been breaking down inside me
