

Alison Krauss & Union Station, Will You Be Leavi

Alison Krauss & Union Station

Miscellaneous

Will You Be Leaving

You may walk away in anger

Wear your heart upon your sleeve

You make act like it don't matter

Keep me laughing while you leave

But burning bridges won't get me back

If you change your mind some day

Why can't we turn this scene around

Before you walk away?

Will you be leaving, leaving me today?

Like the ocean leaves us waiting on the sand

Crumbling in our hand

I can't live this scene again

You may turn away in silence

While the tears run down your face

Say there's nothing left to bind us

Leaving love without a trace

But if I loved you well

You'd soon find out why your new love falls some day

Why can't we burn this heartache down

before you walk away?

Will you be leaving, leaving me today?

Like the ocean leaves us waiting on the sand

Crumbling in our hand

I can't live this scene again

Will you be leaving, leaving me today?

Like the ocean leaves us waiting on the sand

Crumbling in our hand

I can't live this scene again