

Alison Moyet, It Won't Be Long

One of these days, I'm waiting on a day
When nobody comes to trample my meadow
Biding my time, there's gonna be a time
Might take a while but changes are coming
And it won't be long when everything you said
Won't sit around and pile up with the traffic in my head
When I wake up, I won't see you on the bathroom floor
In the tangle of clothes we left lying there
It won't be long, it won't be long, won't be long
One of these nights with company, I find
I won't be inclined to leave before sunrise
My eyes, my mouth, my hands, my head
Don't tell me that nobody else will do
And it won't be long when everything you said
Won't sit around and pile up with the traffic in my head
When I wake up, I won't see you on the bedroom floor
In the tangle of rope we left lying there

It won't be long, it won't be long, won't be long
Till it's all gone
And it won't be long when everything you said
Won't sit around and pile up with the traffic in my head
When I wake up, I won't see you by the bedroom door
In the wallpaper stain by the cup that I threw at your head
It won't be long, it won't be long
And it won't be long, it won't be long
Won't be, won't be long
Won't be long, won't be long
Won't be, won't be long
And it won't be long, won't be long
Won't be long, won't be long
Won't be long, won't be long
Won't be long
