

All About Eve, Outshine The Sun

Is it fair to say the world's gone bad ?
Is it fair to say that we've been had ? I'm thinking it over, think it over again.

This is the time to set the world alight.
This is the time to set the world to right. We're taking advantage of a rumour we started.

I'm losing the feeling.

My life is losing its meaning.
He shines so hard. There's nowhere to run.
He blinds, his mind outshines the sun.
Imagine what he could become He's only begun to outshine the sun.

When the gods are shaken from the sky, there's a scientific reason why.
There's no wish to replace them and no-one's rushing in to win the race to fill the empty space