

All About Eve, Wild Hearted Woman

Baby sings the blues... for you
She may get happy later
Baby cries for comfort
For something to surround her
And when she sings it
You believe her
How everyone she ever knew
Would leave her spinning 'round
All on fire
Another wild hearted woman
Another child with the stars in her eyes
A wild hearted woman
And she's falling... falling
Baby's lost her soul... to you
Call her a fallen angel
Stormy weather forever
With every friend a stranger
Lost little girl
In hurricanes of love and pain
Locked in her world
Of daisy chains and love and pain
Trying to find peace of mind
Another wild hearted woman...
