All About Eve, Wild Hearted Woman

Baby sings the blues... for you She may get happy later Baby cries for comfort For something to surround her And when she sings it You believe her How everyone she ever knew Would leave her spinning 'round All on fire Another wild hearted woman Another child with the stars in her eyes A wild hearted woman And she's falling... falling Baby's lost her soul... to you Call her a fallen angel Stormy weather forever With every friend a stranger Lost little girl In hurricanes of love and pain Locked in her world Of daisy chains and love and pain Trying to find peace of mind Another wild hearted woman...
