

All American Rejects, Breakin'

Hold on tight
Wrap your arms around me
Till your knuckles are burnin' white
And all your tears
(All your tears)
Couldn't match the bitter taste
Of all these wasted years
And all you
Take, take
Everything that wasn't even yours
Wait, wait
You don't got a hold on me anymore
In a clear view
There's a silhouette
And I watch you
And I can't forget
(Knew we were done when you locked that door)
Yeah, I've figured it out now
Breakin's what the heart is for
When I see you in a silhouette
And you hold close
Do you feel regret?
(Keeping me down when I hit that floor)
Yeah, I've figured it out, girl
Breakin's what your heart is for
So long
I've had to bite my tongue
But what's the point
If the feeling's gone?
I turn my head
(Turn my head)
Blind, I only seize a memory
But all I see is red
(All I see is red)
No, don't, don't
Say it didn't happened that way
I won't, won't
Believe another word that you say
In a clear view
There's a silhouette
And I watch you
And I can't forget
(Knew we were done when you locked that door)
Yeah, I've figured it out now
Breakin's what the heart is for
When I see you in a silhouette
And you hold close
Do you feel regret?
(Keeping me down when I hit that floor)
Yeah, I've figured it out, girl
Breakin's what your heart is for
(Break, break, break, break, break, break)
Yeah, breakin's what your heart is for
(Break, break, break, break, break, break)
Yeah, breakin's what your heart is for
And not a soul sleeps
Another heart skips the beats
With every note that you wrote
And I hope that you choke
On the lines
You're wasting my time
Another heart beats tonight
In a clear view
There's a silhouette

And I watch you
No, I'll never forget
(Knew we were done when you locked that door)
Yeah, I've figured it out now
Breakin's what the heart is for
When I see you in a silhouette
And you hold close
Do you feel regret?
(Keeping me down when I hit that floor)
Yeah, I've figured it out, girl
Breakin's what your heart is for
(Break, break, break, break, break, break)
Yeah, breakin's what your heart is for
(Break, break, break, break, break, break)
Yeah, breakin's what your heart is for
(Break, break, break, break, break, break)
Yeah, breakin's what your heart is for
(Break, break, break, break, break, break)
Yeah, breakin's what your heart is for
