

All American Rejects, Your Star

All American Rejects

All American Rejects

Your Star

She screams when i'm away She's been gone before.

I worry all the time, why worry anymore

Now I go, away

Now I know, today

I picked out your star

Turned night to day

A simple whisper from your voice

And I fade away

You wish for love

You pushed me away

Your love for me was everything I need

The air I breath

she, now she's all alone

Her eyes they drown in tears

Their love was meant to last

But she is blind with fear

Now I go, away

Now I know, today

Leave me be

Now I'm free

Love reflecting everything

You want space

I need you to help me see this through
