

All Angels, Singing You Through

Do you think I can't see through to who you are?
All the life that shines below the pain; the scars
Did you think that you could hide the love you hold inside?
Just turn yourself to stone, and go through this alone?
I'll be there

Like a bird singing to you, I'll be there
Like a bird singing you through, I'll be there
I'll be there, holding the light for you
Making it right for you, singing you through

Do you think that I don't know how far you've come?
All the heights you've had to climb; the miles you ran
Did you think I'd let you down? Just turn this ship around
And leave you in the dust, but you must know, you must
I'll be there

Like a bird singing to you, I'll be there
Like a bird singing you through, I'll be there
I'll be there, holding the light for you
Making it right for you, singing you through

Singing you through (repeat)

People think that they can heal without the touch
Learn to live without the love they need so much
But everybody hurts, and everybody cries
And everybody needs a helping hand sometimes
I'll be there

Like a bird singing to you, I'll be there
Like a bird singing you through, I'll be there
I'll be there, holding the light for you
I'll be there, making it right for you,
I'll be there... singing you through

Like a bird singing you through (repeat)
